

Creating an Individual Development Plan

for Graduate Students & Postdocs

What is an IDP?

- A written plan that allows you to articulate and clarify your career goals
- An opportunity to craft and create your own plan of success for your career path.

Do I need an IDP for academic careers or only careers beyond academia?

- An IDP is great for both! A well-constructed IDP will assist you in setting immediate, intermediate and long-term goals for any career path you chose.

Once you have completed at least one of the career assessments for graduate students and postdocs (a prerequisite for this workshop), you are eligible to participate in an Individual Development Plan (IDP) workshop.

Thursday, June 4, 2009
2:00-4:00pm

Co-Sponsored by the Internship and Career Center and the Office of Graduate Studies (Professional Development Series)

UCDAVIS